FLAGSHIP RESORTS

In the dynamic world of architecture and development, one name stands out as a beacon of innovation and excellence—Davenport Consulting Group. With a rich and illustrious history, DCG has emerged as a distinguished leader in the design and development of projects across a multitude of sectors, leaving an indelible mark on the landscape of contemporary architecture.

Founded by the visionary architect David B. Portwood in 2014, DCG embarked on a journey to revolutionize cost-effective construction while upholding the highest standards of architectural excellence. This journey witnessed a significant milestone in 2020 with the addition of Sean Palmer, AIA, NCARB, as Vice President. Together, Portwood and Palmer bring a cumulative experience of over five decades in the industry, marked by a trail of prestigious awards for their outstanding contributions to design and development.

DCG's architectural mastery spans an impressive spectrum, encompassing stunning residential dwellings, multifamily apartments, condominiums that redefine luxury living, towering mid-rise and high-rise structures that grace skylines, thoughtfully designed student housing, affordable housing solutions that bridge gaps, cutting-edge offices, inviting restaurants, vacation-oriented time-shares, meticulously crafted single-family residential developments—including market-rate, tax-credit, and HUD-financed projects—and, last but not least, dignified assisted living facilities. Their portfolio resonates with the diversity of architectural expressions, epitomizing their commitment to "Designs Worth Building."

At the heart of DCG's mission lies an unwavering commitment—to deliver projects promptly and within the stipulated budget, while never compromising on quality. This commitment is underscored by their meticulous approach, beginning with comprehensive cost estimates and a deep understanding of each client's unique vision. It's this profound understanding that enables them to infuse every project with value-added engineering solutions, ensuring the highest level of cost-efficiency.
